Healed of an ankle fracture and ligament rupture, now I can even go hiking

Miseon Kwon | Female, 59, Gwanak-gu, Seoul

On the evening of March 21, I missed a step on the stairs and injured my right ankle so severely that it made a loud cracking sound. By the next day, my foot was so swollen that I could not even put weight on it. On March 23, after an orthopedic examination, I was diagnosed with a fracture of the inner bone of my right ankle and a rupture of the outer ligament, requiring about three months of treatment.

To make matters worse, on April 4, I injured my left ankle while coming down the stairs. The next day, April 5, Easter Sunday, I attended the service on crutches, with my left ankle wrapped in a compression bandage and my right ankle in a cast. During the day, while Senior Pastor Soojin Lee was watching the Easter egg display, she saw me on crutches and prayed on my right foot.

At the moment she prayed, I had the assurance that I was already healed. Before the Sunday evening service, I removed the cast and worshiped, and the next morning, all pain had completely disappeared, and I was able to walk without crutches. Hallelujah!

When I visited the orthopedic clinic on April 27, the doctor asked if I had surgery elsewhere, saying the bone had healed remarkably well. Although the pain was gone, I was still limping slightly. As I reflected on the reason, I remembered praying in an unwise way and repented of it.

Then, on May 1, when I attended an event at the prayer house, Senior Pastor Lee kindly advised me to consistently do ankle-rotation exercises at home. After receiving the blessing prayer for all attendees that day, I was able to walk without limping. On May 5, I joined a relatively easy hike at Gureum Mountain, and on May 25, I was even able to hike the much steeper Gwanak Mountain. Hallelujah!

I was healed of miliary tuberculosis at the brink of death

Tirath Gautam | Male, 32, Uttar Pradesh, India

Starting in December 2025, I began experiencing fever, body aches, and cold-like symptoms, and my condition gradually worsened over time. By January 2026, my health had deteriorated so much that I could no longer work, and I eventually returned to my hometown.

At the hospital, after undergoing a chest X-ray and blood and sputum tests, I was diagnosed with miliary tuberculosis—a severe form of tuberculosis in which the bacteria had spread beyond the lungs and throughout my body via the bloodstream. After that, I suffered from intense coughing and chest pain to the point that even breathing became difficult, and I went through painful days where I could hardly eat anything.

Because it was difficult for me to speak, I had to communicate through gestures. I could not stand or move on my own, and my condition became so serious that even basic bodily needs had to be taken care of by my wife. Although I took medication, it did not help. As my condition worsened, some people even suggested that I visit a shaman.

At that time, through the recommendation of my relative, Pooja Gautam, who felt deep compassion for my suffering, on March 14 my family and I had a video call with Nancy from Delhi Manmin Church. All of my family members tearfully repented of the past when we had lived without knowing the Lord, and starting from Sunday, March 15, we began attending online worship services through Zoom. At first, I could not understand the message well, but as I continued listening, my heart gradually began to open.

Then one day, three goats we were raising at home were stolen. In the past, I would have been filled with anger and resentment, but remembering the message I had heard through the worship service, I reflected on myself—how I had often got angry with others—and offered a prayer of repentance.

Shortly after finishing my prayer, I received a message from a neighbor saying that the thief had been caught and that I should come and take the goats back. I recovered two out of the three goats. Although one was still lost, my heart was filled with gratitude. Through this incident, I deeply felt that God was watching over me.

On March 27, after attending the divine healing meeting and receiving prayer from Senior Pastor Lee, my chest pain began to disappear. Soon after, my fever, cough, and cold symptoms also vanished. From then on, I developed a deep longing for the Word, to the point that I would wake up at 3 a.m. and ask my wife to play videos from “GCN TV Hindi” YouTube channel. As I cast off evil attributes such as anger and jealousy and continued to change myself to become someone loved by God and Jesus Christ, my health was also restored.

I am now able to eat three meals a day normally, use the restroom on my own, and have regained enough strength to even ride a bicycle. Hallelujah! Now my entire household has been evangelized, and 16 of us are worshiping together. I give all thanks and glory to Father God who healed me at the brink of death.

Freed from over 7 years of insomnia, I am now able to sleep deeply

Kang Seok-il | Male, 70, Gangnam-gu, Seoul

I lived a financially comfortable life running a business importing and distributing coffee beans from overseas, along with operating a coffee shop. However, as I fell into drinking and nightlife, my lifestyle became increasingly indulgent, and my days and nights were reversed. About 7–8 years ago, I began suffering from severe insomnia. Even the ticking sound of a clock felt unbearably loud, so I had to leave it outside my room. There were many days when I could not sleep even for an hour and a half. It was so unbearable that I felt like I was losing my mind.

Because I couldn't sleep properly, I began experiencing extreme mood swings, eventually developing bipolar disorder. About a year ago I was also diagnosed with hypothyroidism, which caused my whole body to feel lethargic. I had to take as many as 22 pills a day for these three conditions, but they had no effect. Instead, the excessive medication weakened my body further, forcing me to rely on a brace and a cane, and even install support handles in the bathroom at home.

Then on May 18, I visited a neighbor, who is a member of Manmin Central Church, and for the first time I was introduced to GCN broadcasting. Having once attended another church long ago, I felt certain as I listened to the sermon of Senior Pastor Soojin Lee that “this is the Word of life.” I said, “Let me watch GCN here at my home. I will start going to church.”

The next day, May 19, pastor Deokbun Seo and other church workers visited my home, guided me on how to watch GCN, and prayed for me with the handkerchief of power. Then, an astonishing thing happened the following morning. For the first time in 7–8 years—during which I had barely slept even an hour and a half a day—I slept deeply for a full eight hours.

Overwhelmed with joy and gratitude, I said, “I can't wait until Sunday,” and on May 20, I went to the Bundang Local Sanctuary, where I attended a Wednesday service and officially registered.

Through the message on the world mission delivered by pastor Mikyung Lee, I was greatly blessed. Then, at the Sunday service on May 24, as I listened to Senior Pastor Lee's Whitsunday message and 1 Corinthian lecture, I became even more convinced that this is truly the Word of life. During the service that day, I also received Senior Pastor's prayer for the sick.

After registering at the church, remarkable changes happened in my body. Even though I stopped taking the 22 pills I had been relying on each day, the symptoms of insomnia, bipolar disorder, and hypothyroidism did not return. My body became full of energy, and I was able to walk freely without a brace or a cane. People say, “Your face looks so much brighter,” and “Even though you're in your 70s, you look like you're in your 60s.”

In the early morning of May 30, when I checked my phone, I was astonished to find that I had received nine calls overnight. I, who used to be unable to sleep even because of the ticking of a clock, had slept so deeply that I didn't even notice the phone ringing nine times. The insomnia that had tormented me for 7–8 years had been completely healed. Hallelujah!

I give all thanks and glory to Father God who healed my insomnia, bipolar disorder, and hypothyroidism that had persisted for over seven years.

Do You Have Faith Acknowledged by God? (2)

In Mark 9:22, we see a father who had a son possessed by a mute spirit come before Jesus and earnestly ask for healing: “If You can do anything, have compassion on us and help us.” Here, the phrase “If You can” is not a confession of true faith, but a statement made in hope of mere chance.

Jesus responded, “If you can? All things are possible for one who believes.” Then the boy’s father immediately said, “I do believe; help my unbelief!” This may sound contradictory—he says, “I believe,” and yet also asks for help with his unbelief. However, their spiritual meanings are different.

First, when he said, “I do believe,” it was a confession of fleshly faith. It means he had the knowledge by hearing. He had heard that Jesus cast out demons, opened the eyes of the blind, and made the lame walk—demonstrating great power. Because he had heard these things, he confessed, “I believe intellectually.”

Next, he said, “Help my unbelief.” Although he had heard and known through rumors, he realized that he did not yet have the spiritual faith to receive an answer. So he was asking for spiritual faith. Seeing this humble and earnest plea, Jesus rebuked the evil spirit and commanded it to come out;

“Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for,
the conviction
of things not seen.
For by it the men
of old gained approval.”

Hebrews 11:1–2

the spirit left, and the child was made whole.

At first, the father had only intellectual faith, but through his desperate seeking, he came to possess spiritual faith. Through this, he experienced the work of God as his son was completely healed. Then what should we do to have spiritual faith?

We have to break down every thought and theory that brings doubt

The greatest obstacle to being reborn as a child of God and growing spiritually is fleshly thoughts and theories that originate from untruth. Therefore, as 2 Corinthians 10:5 says, “We are destroying speculations and every lofty thing raised up against the knowledge of God, and we are taking every thought captive to the obedience of Christ,” we must break down all theories and thoughts that prevent us from having spiritual faith.

The knowledge, theories, thinking, and values that a person learns from birth are not all correct; only the Word of God is the everlasting truth. When people insist that their own knowledge and theories are right, they cannot accept the Word of God, the truth. Nor can they have spiritual faith. Therefore, to have spiritual faith, one must first discard all thoughts and theories that bring doubt, preventing them from believing the Word of God. Otherwise, even if they diligently come to church and worship, they cannot possess spiritual faith and thus cannot receive salvation or answers to prayer.

Even Apostle Paul possessed fleshly faith before he met the Lord. That is why he failed to recognize Jesus Christ, and instead arrested and persecuted the believers of Jesus. However, after meeting the Lord on the road to Damascus, he broke down all theories and thoughts that he considered right and came to possess spiritual faith by which he obeyed only Christ. In the end, he became a great evangelist who took the lead in preaching to the Gentiles and laid the foundation for world missions.
